GLADIOLI "KUNDERDI" KNOW THEM BY THEIR RUFFLED PETALS

1927

"THEY ARE GOOD WHEN THEY COME FROM KUNDERD"

Sp. offer

A. E. KUNDERD

THE ORIGINATOR OF THE

RUFFLED AND THE LACINIATED GLADIOLI

U.S. Department of Agriculture

Goshen, Indiana,

To You, Mr. Grower
I offer my
Unbloomed Seedlings

Season of Twenty Seven
My Forty-seventh Year

Last year for the first time in forty-six years of producing and growing of KUNDERD GLADIOLI I offered a limited quantity of unbloomed seedlings. I did not intend to do so this year but there is not a mail but what brings from one to many requests for me to do so again this year.

What seedlings I sell may deprive me of just the variety or varieties that will prove the best I have ever produced, so you can see why I have hesitated to sell any more. I once gave Mathew Crawford, whom all pioneers in the gladiolus business knew, a teaspoonful of my gladiolus seed complimentary. From what I had left of this same lot came Kunderdii Glory, the original ruffled gladiolus produced by scientific methods. How easy it would have been for this most extraordinary new variety to get out of my hands.

Believing, however, that in selling these unbloomed seedlings my act is fully appreciated, I will spare up to a limited quantity of unbloomed seedlings to my wholesale list of buyers only, at the following very reasonable prices:

15c each $12.50 per 100 $100.00 per 1,000
Less than 100 straight, 15c each—500 at 1,000 rate—Less than 500 at 100 rate.

Remember, an unbloomed seedling is a new variety from seed, no two of these are alike, and you probably will find something very extra in a quantity of these. You may find the finest gladiolus yet produced and worth thousands of dollars, but this is not the rule. One thing sure—there is at least one to every hundred worth the price of the entire hundred. The balance you have for nothing. Send your order at once to avoid disappointment.

REGAL LILY SEED

As a commercial grower you should not overlook the Regal Lily as the coming lily, and with excellent possibilities for you from an investment point of view. You no doubt know of this lily, if not, notice pages 68 and 69 of my retail catalog which I believe you have. I am offering the very best possible grade of this seed at wholesale. This seed was grown on my farm the past season and is of hardy, northern grown stock, hand pollinated, especially fine.

$1.00 per thousand.

75c per thousand in lots from six thousand to ten thousand.

60c per thousand in lots from eleven to twenty thousand.

50c per thousand in quantities of twenty thousand or more.

This seed still in limited supply. Send your order at once.

Very truly yours,

A. E. Kunderd.

P.S.—My wholesale list is full of good investments.
